The Nations of Europe are at a historic juncture. The European Union—once a dream project rooted in a desire for reconciliation after the destruction caused by two world wars and decades of division—has turned against Europeans and now pursues interests contrary to the will of the Nations, Regions and small communities that constitute our European home.

Institutions largely unknown to and removed from European citizens—along with strong globalist forces, unelected bureaucrats, lobbies and interest groups with contempt for the voice of the majority and of popular democracy—are planning to replace the Nations. With what? A European central state.

The elections for the new European Parliament this June were therefore of generational and existential significance. The political fault line today no longer runs between conservatives and liberals or between Right and Left, but between Centralists who herald a new European “superstate”, and Patriots and Sovereignists who fight to preserve and strengthen the Europe of Nations we cherish. Only through the victory and cooperation of patriotic and sovereignist parties across the continent we can guarantee our children’s inheritance.

We believe in a Europe

- of strong, proud and independent Nations free in their determination to live and cooperate in concord with each other;
- united through institutions with legitimacy rooted in Nations, mandated by and held accountable to the peoples of Europe;
- sovereign and unwavering in the pursuit of its interests, free from dependencies that obstruct the fulfilment, at home and abroad, of the will of its national communities;
- committed to peace and dialogue, while ready to defend itself against any threat;
- that safeguards and celebrates its European identity, traditions and customs, the fruits of its Greco-Roman and Judeo-Christian heritage;
- that cherishes the inherent diversity among its Nations, their history and way of life, while resisting ultimatums to change according to the fashion of the day;
- that champions real freedoms, fundamental rights and human dignity, while fiercely resisting attempts to limit or redefine these freedoms;
- competitive, productive, efficient and proud of its intellectual, scientific and economic feats as a continent of innovation, excellence and progress;
- determined to protect its borders, to stop illegal migration and to preserve its cultural identity, following the will of the vast majority of European citizens;
- of Nations ready to protect their people against any and all potential threats coming from the political, economic, religious and cultural spheres;
- that respects its own mandate and rules, does not act beyond its competencies, abides by the principle of subsidiarity and proportionality and ceases to justify its attacks on national sovereignty by applying pressure through the European budget;
- of Nations that refuse all further transfers of national sovereignty to the European institutions;
- that respects the veto right of Nations;
- that recognizes diplomacy as a fundamental element of the sovereignty of Member States, and as a matter for each Nation to decide upon freely without committing others to the same course of action.

We, the patriotic forces of Europe, pledge to return the future of our continent to the European people by retaking our institutions and reorienting European policy to serve our Nations and our people. To prioritize sovereignty over federalism, freedom over diktats, and peace: this is the Manifesto of Patriots.eu.
